SMUGGLING.

A clever writer in the Boston Commercial Bulletin tells some curious stories of the ways of the smugglers of the present day-ways that are sometimes in vain, but at others are past finding out by the acutest Collector. Diamonds are known to be smuggled in large quantities, and the detectives are always on the lookout for them. When suspicion justifies it a passenger from Europe is stripped to the skin, and his clothes examined inch by inch and seam by seam; the heels are taken from his boots, his hair and beard are combed, and every means taken to discover the hiding place of the secreted treasures. At one time this mode of search was tolerably successful, but now it rarely serves any purpose except in the case of raw recruits to the smuggling ranks. An old bird is caught with chaff but once.

A New York Jew, known to be a smuggler, crossed in the Cunard steamer two or three times a year. The first time he was caught he returned to Liverpool by the same steamer, and four weeks afterward again landed upon the company's wharf on North river. He was again soized and subjected to the same rigorous search but with no success. The Jew took it smilingly and philosophically. When he took his leave he said: "Better luck next time, gen-tlemen. I shall go back by the same steamer on business; when I return you can try it again.'

The officers mentally determined if he did they would try it again. Upon inquiry it was found that he really had engaged a return passage, having held his stateroom for that purpose. Two hours before the sailing of the steamer he was driven down to the pier in his carriage, his wife and daughter with him to see him off. When they returned they carried with them over ten thou-sand dollars' worth of diamonds, which had lain secreted in his stateroom during the whole time the steamer had remained in port. Before his return to New York the Collector was notified by one of the revenue agents abroad that "Max Fischer would return by the which would leave Liverpool, October 25, with several thousand dollars' worth of diamonds. In due time the Jew arrived, and for the third time was escorted before the searcher. He seemed nervous and agitated, and finally attempted to compromise. He was politely informed that that was out of the question. He was again put through the searching process. His pocketbook, which was first investigated, revealed a memorandum showing the purchase of eighteen diamonds of various sizes and prices, amounting in all to about $12,000. When this came to light the Jew begged with tears to be allowed to compromise. A deaf ear was turned to his entreaties. His coat was removed and the lining examined. Nothing there .-Then the waistcoat. As the searcher passed his practical fingers along the lining his heart gave a tremendous thump as he recognized the "feel" of something pebbly, like little rows of buttons. The garment was hastily ripped, a strip of chamois skin withdrawn and unrolled, and there they lay, one, two, three-eighteen All there.

"You can put on your coat and waistcoat again, Mr. Fischer," said the searcher, blandly.

'Good day.' Without a word the Jew departed, took a horse-car home, kissed his family, ate a rousing dinner, repaired to the bath-room, and, after soaking a rather capacious plaster across the small of his back for a few minutes in warm water, peeled it off, and with it eighteen diamonds, of various costs and prices. What the searcher and collector may have said or thought when they found their seizure to be nothing but clever glass imitations, worth from ten to thirty cents each, nobody knows.

EDUCATED FLEAS.—The latest excitement in Berlin is the exhibition of drilled fleus. The exhibition takes place on a large sheet of white paper fastened on an ordinary table, to which all the spectators approach in turn, so as to be able to witness in all details the extraordinary manœuvres of these little, but marvelously powerful and gifted rascals. Here you see one of the muscular fleas rolling a small barrel along with its feet, as the men do in the circus; there you see a slim, voluptuously built madam of the species walking along in crinoline and carrying her parasol with all the affectation of a city miss; at another place a well trained fellow performs on the flying trapeze-without any danger to his neck, however, since the biggest fall would not break that; while below the trapeze, on the paper, a host of little ones are turning summersaults at a fearful rate. The largest specimens of the collection have been trained to draw wagons, drays, carriages, etc. To fix the harness on them properly the flea tamer places his pupils on a piece of paper covered with mucilage, where they have to stick. He then, by the aid of a watchmaker's loop, arranges a stronghold thread around their bodies and attaches it to the wagon or carriage. The ladies of Berlin attend the exhibition in large numbers, and seem to take an extraordinary delight in the performance of the little creatures, who are fed every morning from the arm of the great flea tamer.

FARMING IN CALIFORNIA .- A farm in California, consisting of 20,000 acres, has just been let for five years, at an annual rental of $40,000. The farm is stocked with 1900 head of cattle, 100 horses, 50 mules and 1500 hogs, costing the lessee, with crops, the sum of $74,250. Heavy farming that. But out there they have sheep ranges of 100,000 acres, with flocks numbering from 60,000 to 100,000 head, while there are farmers who boast of wheat crops amounting to 50,000 and 120,000 bushels Cattle raising, once a prominent interest, is going down. The vineyard and dairy interests are continually growing, both being conducted on very extensive scales which appear to characterize farming operations in that region. The receipts of wheat at Stockton on one day recently amounted to 1495 tons. It is calculated that Ireland has lost three millions of her inhabitants in thirty years. Most of these emigrants have of course come to the new Irish land law, the exodus has been checked and many Irishmen even who have acquired formance in the control of the co checked and many Irishmen even who have acquired fortunes in this country are going back A new supply of Ladies' and Gents' Thread to Ireland and settling permanently in their and Silk Gloves. old homes. One thing is certain, the emigra-tion from Ireland is steadily decreasing.

Also a full supply of those "Iron Frame' aug 15 tion from Ireland is steadily decreasing.

DRUGS AND CHEMICALS.

Nearly all diseases originate from Indigestion Nearly all diseases originate from Indigestion and Torpidity of the Liver, and relief is always anxiously sought after. If the Liver is Regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Want of action in the Liver causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Chills, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, bilious attacks, palainting of the heart depression of spirits, or the pitation of the heart, depression of spirits, or the pitation of the heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, for which SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered. Its acts mildly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for FORTY YEARS, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will vouch for its being the purest and best.
